

Settlement delayed due to issue at the depository

Due to a technical issue at the depository, shares bought on Wednesday have not yet been settled across all brokers. As a result, such shares are still marked as T1 holdings for some of our users. You may sell them, however, you will not receive credit of such sale until Monday, February 9. Such sale will also carry risk of short delivery.

Note: Since the holdings are not yet settled, stocks in the T2T segment bought on Wednesday cannot be sold today.
